Copyright and Licensing Information

(Keep for your records)

You are allowed one free copy of this song as a sample or for your personal music collection.

Since this is a solo, your soloist and your accompanist may each download their own free copies, then sing the song during church services. (If your church makes a few recordings for members who can't attend services, we also give permission for that.)

However, it is illegal, without permission, to make more copies or to use this song in any other way. To use Worry Song as a congregational hymn, refer to the website for the proper version and licensing information.

To copy this music legally, use the license agreement on the next page. We allow you to begin copying as soon as you submit the signed agreement to your church treasurer for payment, or mail the agreement and payment yourself.

You can only make the number of copies that you license. Before making the copies, fill in the "License Line" at the bottom of the first page of this song.

To get permission for other uses of this song, email us. This would be needed, for example, if you wanted to perform this song beyond church services, to make a recording for wider distribution, etc. Permission may or may not involve payment, but you do need to contact us. No other licensing organization covers our material.
